Health Expert, Social Workers Will Be Hired

Applications for positions as medical social worker and public health engineer are now being accepted by Contra Costa County.

Application deadlines for the two positions are today and January 25, respectively. Tests will be given on January 26 and February 9.

Medical social workers are employed by the county hospital and the county social service department. An opening now exists at the county hospital in the rehabilitation services program.

In order to be considered for this vacancy candidates must have completed two years of graduate training leading to a master's degree in a graduate school of social work approved by the Council of Social Work Education.

HOWEVER, additional vacancies occurring in the next two years in the social service department may be filled from the employment list established by this examination.

The medical social worker in the county hospital will report to the director of rehabilitation services.

He will be responsible for providing rehabilitation assistance to patients under public medical care programs, planning for the patient's release with a maximum of self-dependency, and assisting the patient in adjusting to his medical program while in the hospital.

The medical social worker in the county social service department serves as a member of a review team evaluating the adequacy of medical social care plans for patients, participates in the department's in-service training programs, provides medical social work consultation to staff, and works with community health and welfare agencies.

THE PUBLIC health engineer will plan, develop, coordinate and evaluate the environmental health programs in Contra Costa County.

Youth Orchestra Invited On Japan Concert Tour

The California Youth Symphony Orchestra accepted an invitation from the Asahi Shimbun Press of Tokyo to perform in concert on tour throughout Japan in the summer of 1963.

The invitation was extended to the California Youth Symphony Orchestra following a visit by members of the Cultural Commission of Japan who were touring the United States as guests of the U.S. State Department.

So impressed were they with the exceptional quality of the musicianship of the orchestra that they said this was a side of American student life and achievement they would want the Japanese people to see and appreciate.

The California Youth Symphony Orchestra, trained and conducted by Aaron Sten since its beginning in 1952, has a membership of 104 young musicians ranging in age from 11 through 18 who attend 30 different junior and senior high schools in 20 separate communities around the San Francisco Bay Area.

In reference to the purpose of the tour, Toshio Kanchi, project director for the Asahi Shimbun Press, said, "If your tour succeeds in establishing children-to-children personal friendship both in the homes and on the stages, your tour will not only inspire other smaller cities to organize their own junior orchestras . . . but also will make the best cultural exchange program between the United States and Japan that has ever been thought about."

ALL PURPOSE

Douglas fir is a contradiction of values. It is one of the nation's busiest and most widely used construction lumbers and it provides some of the most beautiful finish lumber, a rare combination in one tree.

Peace was the first thing the Angels sang. Peace is the mark of the sons of God. Peace is the nurse of love. Peace is the mother of unity. Peoce is the rest of blessed souls. Peace is the dwelling place for eternity.

Graphic Art Collections On Display at Museum

Graphic arts are spotlighted this month by the San Francisco Museum of Art, Veterans' Building, Civic Center, in two outstanding exhibitions: "100 Prints from the Grunwald Graphic Arts Foundation, University of California at Los Angeles" and "Prints by Vera Berdich."

The Grunwald Collection, on display until February 3, includes an outstanding selection of etching, both black and white and color lithography, aquatint, drypoint and watercolor by many of the most famous artists of our time.

Among those represented are Max Beckmann, Pierre Bonnard, George Braque, Paul Cezanne, Edgar Degas, Lyonel Feininger, Paul Gaugin, Wassily Kandinsky, Paul Klee, Henry Matisse, Edvard Munch, Emil Nolde, Pablo Picasso, Auguste Renoir and Jacques Villon.

THE PRIVATE collection of Fred Grunwald, which he started during the early 1900s in Germany, is now established as the Grunwald Graphic Arts Foundation.

Much of the collection was confiscated by the nazis in 1933, but Grunwald began collecting again after he had established himself in the United States.

Prints by Vera Berdich will be exhibited from Tuesday to February 15. She has been called "one of two top graphic artists of this country."

On internationally known artist and teacher of printmaking for 15 years at the School of the Art Institute of Chicago, she has received many awards and grants.

Gallery hours are Tuesday through Friday, 10 a.m. to 10 p.m.; Saturday, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., and Sunday, 1 to 5 p.m. The museum is closed each Monday.

B'ley Social Security Office In New Home

The Berkeley Social Security office has moved to new quarters at 1950 University Avenue, one block away from its former location on Addison Street.

Explaining the move, Morgan J. Shea, district manager, said that the larger space will provide better service for the increasing number of beneficiaries in Berkeley, Albany, and Contra Costa County, which makes up the service area of the office.

"Since the Berkeley Social Security office opened in October, 1954, its beneficiaries have increased nearly 200 per cent," Shea pointed out.

Because of the liberalized retirement test now in the law, Shea recommends that persons with in three months of retirement visit the office to discuss ley offifce - eligibility for benefits. The Berkeley office is open from 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Driver's Delight: Gas Taxes Can Be Deducted

Some car expenses are deductible on your income tax returns even if the car is never used for business purposes, according to the California State Automobile Association.

The major item for most motorists who itemize their deductions is the state gasoline tax of six cents per gallon.

The amount of gasoline used can be determined by dividing the total number of miles the car has traveled during the past year by the number of miles it gets per gallon.

GASOLINE MILEAGE varies considerably, but the average for all cars is about 14 miles per gallon, says the CSAA, and the average motorist drives about 10,000 miles per year. Compact and foreign cars, of course, average more than 14 miles per gallon.

The Federal gasoline tax, currently four cents a gallon, is not deductible.

Other items that are deductible are registration fees and interest paid on cars that are financed.

LOSSES FROM FIRE, accident, storm or theft are deductible to the extent they are not covered by insurance and when the accident did not result from the taxpayer's willful act of negligence. Drunken driving, for example, is construed as a willful act of negligence, while mere faulty driving is not.

Other deductions are allowable when the car is used wholly or partly for business purposes. Driving back and forth to work is considered a personal rather than a business expense and is not allowable.

To help universities provide lasting positions for extraordinarily gifted research men, the American Cancer Society has established research professorships for the academic lifetime of 17 scientists.

ACROSS AN ORIENT BAY you ride as morning fog lifts from the waters. This is only one of the adventures you may have on The Sun Orient Tour in April on which every day is an adventure. Call The Sun or your travel agent now for more information about this deluxe tour at economy prices.

Broadway Sends You to Orient

Two lucky shoppers at Broadway Shopping Center, Walnut Creek, will join the Sun Orient Holiday tour next April 18, courtesy of Broadway.

The combined travel prize of two 20-day deluxe tours through major cities, shrines and scenic locales in the Far East, represents a dollar value of over $2800.

"No purchase is necessary," said Carl Putz of J. C. Penney's, member of the Broadway Merchants Association executive committee. Just clip out the coupon appearing on the front page of this section of The Sun, and deposit it at any store in Broadway.

"THE SUBSEQUENT drawing and grand prize is for friends of Broadway, old and new, and we know that two of these lucky people will have a delightful trip," Putz said.

The winners may take the trip themselves, or, if unable to do so, may designate anyone else for the two 20-day holidays. According to contest rules, however, no cash substitution or alternate trip may be offered.

The lucky winners will join other Sun Orient holidayers from the area and will be entitled to precisely the same deluxe transportation, accommodations and special services offered by The Sun Publishing Company.

AS MANY coupons as you wish may be deposited for the drawing. Other coupons are available throughout the Broadway Shopping Center.

"Broadway was shopping around for an outstanding gift we could make available to our friends in Contra Costa—a gift in addition to the year 'round gift of quality merchandise at quantity prices and many other special Broadway offers," Putz explained.

"We feel that The Sun Orient Tour is such a gift, one that will be appreciated by any lucky two persons in the area," he said.

The 20-day tour, with jet transportation to the Orient by BOAC and accommodations in the best of hotels, begins April 18. The lucky winners will spend "cherry-blossom time" in Japan and Hong Kong.

The varied schedule, liberally laced with free time in addition to planned visits to tourist attractions, includes stops at Tokyo, Nikko, Miyanoshita, Atami, Kyoto, Nara, Osaka and Hong Kong.

Highland Bldg. New Quarters Of United Fund

Walnut Creek offices of Contra Costa County Unified Fund and offices of two United Crusade agencies—Volunteer Bureau of Contra Costa County and Contra Costa Mental Health Association—are moving to the Highland Building, 2363 Boulevard Circle.

Completing a five-year lease at 2030 N. Main Street, United Crusade and Mental Health will move January 15; Volunteer Bureau will reopen in the Highland Building, Wednesday, January 2.

Edward G. Romley of Romley Construction Company, owner of the 2030 N. Main Street building, said the Crusade and agency quarters will be rented as general offices.

Broadway Golden Arrow Days Begin Bargain Year

Golden arrows will point to top January values in Broadway through Saturday, according to Matt Howard, chairman of the Broadway Merchants Association.

The fifth annual Golden Arrow Days combines a new year kick-off with traditional after-Christmas bargains, Howard explained. Shoppers throughout the county have come to recognizes the familiar golden arrow as a sign of the best at low clearance prices," he said.

With all of Broadway Shopping Center's many and various merchants participating in the well-known event, discriminating shoppers will have a field day selecting what they need and want from Broadway bargains, Howard predicted.

"There may have been certain items which you had your eyes on during the holidays, but decided the holiday budget wouldn't allow it. Those items are frequently featured during Golden Arrow Days, and at big savings," Howard added.

Started in 1958, the special event has rapidly become one of Broadway's major annual promotions, the chairman pointed out.

"Each year it becomes more popular, and the more popular it becomes the greater variety of merchandise we can offer at spectacularly low prices," he said.

"We are anticipating a greater number of shoppers this year than last year, and intend to show old and new shoppers alike, just a sample of what they can expect from Broadway during 1963," the chairman added.

"This is only the beginning of several special promotions we will have throughout the year. But merchants here, promise me it will be the best 'beginning' in Broadway history," he said.

New Approach to Train Handicapped Studied

A new approach in guiding physically handicapped children toward independent adulthood is now being studied by the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults of Contra Costa County.

One aspect of the study involves group discussion meetings fro parents of multiple handicapped children, which will start this month at Contra Costa County Easter Seal headquarters, 240 South Sixth Street, Richmond.

Mrs. Ardis Loonie, executive director of the Easter Seal Society of Contra Costa County, said that the purpose of the meetings is to assist parents in determining the times and circumstances which warrant that the handicapped child make decisions for himself.

Mrs. Loonie said that the group sessions for parents are an adjunct to weekly group counselling sessions for six cerebral young adults, 16 years of age and over, at the Vocational Rehabilitation Workshop.

The young persons are engaging in self assessment discussions, which involve planning for time utilization in adulthood.

Proposed County Child Institute Discussions Start

An initial meeting on the proposed Children's Institute and Training Center for Contra Costa was this week among mental health leaders, parent group representatives, county medical directors and Department of Mental Hygiene representatives.

The meeting was the follow-up of the announcement by Dr. Daniel Blain, director of the Department of Mental Hygiene that Contra Costa was one of four counties considered for such a community-based facility.

Dr. George Degnan, county medical director; Max Bogner, county organizer specialist and Dr. Marietta Houston, of the Department of Mental Hygiene, a proposed citizens committee by the Contra Costa County Mental Health Association; and representatives of the Community Mental Health Advisory Board attended the meeting held at the American Red Cross building on Ygnacio Valley Road, Walnut Creek.

THE INSTITUTE will offer a community-based alternative to state hospitalization. Facilities call for outpatient clinic facilities for 375 mentally retarded and handicapped children and their families; counseling; training of personnel; diagnostic and evaluation services; treatment, etc.

Inpatient treatment will be primarily for short-term treatment. However, up to 20 per cent of inpatient beds could be used for long-term care.

The proposed citizens committee consists of nine representative groups. They are: Ralph Jarrett, Guidance for Retarded; Terry Haws, immediate past president, Council for Retarded of East Contra Costa County, Inc.; Mrs. T. Wilson, We Care and Cerebral Palsy Society; Francis Burke, Ph.D., County School Department; L. E. Herman, Neurologically Handicapped Society of Contra Costa County; H. L. Blum, M.D., county health officer; Jean E. Neighbor, M.D., professional advisor chairman; Mrs. Estelle Girande, executive director, Contra Costa County Mental Health Association; and Richard Sax, executive director, Council of Community Services.

Members of the advisory board are Mrs. Maxine Johnson of Martinez, secretary; Dr. Charles Brisbin of Pittsburg; Drs. D. E. Wilcox and Howard G. Preece of Walnut Creek; Superior Court Justice Wakefield Taylor of Martinez; and Supervisor Mel Nielsen of Lafayette.

Results of the initial meetings will be reported to the Community Advisory Board on Tuesday at the county hospital.

I am only one, but I am one. I cannot do everything, but I can do something. What I can do, I ought to do. And what I ought to do, by God's grace, I will do.—Anon.

Volunteers Needed for Friendly Visitors Service

One hundred volunteers needed to meet requests for friendly visitors in rest homes, convalescent homes, private homes and county hospital, according to Mrs. William Pitkin, Walnut Creek, recruitment chairman for the Friendly Volunteer Service.

"There are more than 5000 older persons who have health problems which limit their activities," she said. "Nearly 500 aged persons are living in convalescent homes or aged boarding homes, any many more in the county hospital or private homes. Many are lonely, without friends, relatives or visitors, and could use a friendly visitor."

A friendly visitor is a volunteer, man or woman, who visits at least one home-bound lonely, older person each week on a regular basis. Continuity is essential to establish a warm, friendly relationship. This may even be the means of aiding one who may seem almost without hope, but who can be restored.

THE FRIENDLY Visitor Service is a coordinated effort of the Central Contra Costa Council of Churches, Contra Costa County Mental Health Association, American Red Cross, Greater Mt. Diablo Chapter, Contra Costa Council of Community Services, County Social Service Department and the Volunteer Bureau.

Serving on the recruitment committee are: Mrs. Dorothy Spott, Orinda, executive director of the Volunteer Bureau; Mrs. Robert S. Love, Lafayette, representing the Council of Churches; Mrs. Arnold Blackmur, Moraga, Volunteer Bureau, public relations; and Mrs. Jane McClelland, Pleasant Hill, executive director, Friendly Visitor Volunteer Service.

Men or women who have as little as one hour a week to share with someone, are urged to call the Volunteer Bureau today. Volunteer Bureau is located in new quarters, Room 12, Highland Building, 2363 Boulevard Circle, Walnut Creek.

Coasting down grades is an illegal and highly dangerous practice, warns the National Automobile Club.

Broadway Stores Will Remain Open On Three Nights

Stores throughout Broadway Shopping Center, Walnut Creek, are open three nights each week for the convenience of shoppers throughout Contra Costa, according to Matt Howard, chairman of the Broadway Merchants Association.

Most stores in the large center remain open until 9 p.m. on Mondays, Thursdays and Fridays.

"We keep these special hours because we know shoppers appreciate them," Howard explained.

"It gives dad a chance to do some shopping he couldn't otherwise work into a busy schedule. And the lady of the house likes an opportunity to get away for an evening's shopping by herself or with a group of friends," the chairman said.

"On the other hand, evenings are usually the only time the whole family can shop together. Students, too, appreciate the extra hours of shopping time Broadway makes available," he added.

New Parking In Broadway Appreciated

Broadway shoppers have found the new off-street parking an immense convenience, Broadway Merchants Association chairman Matt Howard reported this week.

The new lots, located between Main Street and South Broadway over recently-culverted Walnut Creek, provide space for 200 more cars for a total of 2000 in the area.

"We added to literally acres of parking to increase the total number of spaces available, and also to better divide parking facilities," Howard said.

He said that both customers and merchants were appreciative of the efforts of MacDonald Products Company, founders and developers of Broadway, to keep their promise of more parkink by Christmas.

"With our expected increase in customers, we expect the lots will continue to be used to capacity," Howard said.

Money-Lenders Join Realtors For Breakfast

Over 50 representatives of title companies, banks, mortgage companies, savings and loan associations, and program chairmen of the year were guests of honor at the breakfast meeting of the Contra Costa Board of Realtors recently, according to J. N. Smith, president and presiding officer.

Certificates were awarded to Byron Nelson of Orinda; Bob Killian of Concord; Chuck Cheadle, Rudy Mayer and Dave Robertson, of Walnut Creek; Walt Latter, Lee Watkins and Bill Sumerlin, of the Concord-Pleasant Hill area, for their work as program chairmen.

Lafayette Woman Heads Residential Cancer Drive

Mrs. J. J. Van Loben Sels, Jr., of Lafayette has volunteered her services as residential chairman for the April fund drive by the Contra Costa Branch of the American Cancer Society.

In accepting her responsibility as residential chairman, Mrs. Van Loben Sels said she hopes to reach each of Contra Costa's approximately 125,000 homes during April, leaving life-saving cancer education information and gathering funds to push control of this cruel disease.

The chairman said she is now making plans for county-wide coverage and that a local residential chairman for each community will be appointed.

Mrs. Van Loben Sels comes to the county job after serving as Lafayette cancer drive chairman last year, when she established a local record contribution to cancer control.

Prior to this, she trained for three years with the society as a captain in the annual campaign.

For Quick Freeze, Use Right Shelf

Unfrozen food freezes quickest when placed in the center of the freezing shelf of a cold-air freezer. In freezers with cold shelves, the fastest freezing occurs when the food is placed directly on the first, second or fourth shelf. Place the food next to the wall if possible.

Your freezer should help you in food preparation in addition to being used for food storage.

NEW GYMNASIUM at Campolindo gets a workout from Pete Mica (on top) and Jim Shay as Neisls Waidtlow, physical education instructor, shows how it should be done. Similar to the gym at Del Valle High School, Campolindo's facility has several basketball courts and offers a wide floor expanse for both group athletics and individual activities. Acalanes High School is "breaking in" the main basketball court by playing all its varsity home games on Friday nights at the new school.

Odegard Leads DVC Speakers Panel Agenda

A panel of four speakers has been approved by the governing board of the Contra Costa Junior College District to present a new series of free public lectures at both Contra Costa College in San Pablo and Diablo Valley College at Concord next February and March.

A series of four lectures at each college, entitled "Challenges for Americans," will explore the role of the individual in a democracy.

William J. Kretzmer, board vice-president, described as "outstanding" the speakers selected by a two-campus coordinating committee which is now completing final arrangements.

Coordinators of the series are Mario J. Pezzola, CCC social science instructor, and Lenard Grote, who teaches the same subject at DVC. Grote is the mayor of the newly incorporated city of Pleasant Hill.

In 1961 Pezzola was one of the coordinators of another two-campus series, "Facts on Communism Today," which attracted more than 20,000 persons.

Speakers for the spring series are Dr. Peter H. Odegard, chairman of the political science department of the University of California and former president of Reed College; Dr. Joseph D. Lohman, dean of U.C.'s School of Criminology, one-time sheriff of Cook County, Illinois, and former Illinois state treasurer. Mrs. Catherine Bauer Wurster, professor of city and regional planning at U.C., and Dr. Jacobus tenBroek, head of U.C.'s speech department and chairman of the California State Welfare Board, will also speak.

Dr. Odegard will discuss "The Democratic Process; Dr. Lohman, "Urban and Technological Change"; Mrs. Wurster, "Planning for Metropolitan Growth"; and Dr. tenBroek, "The Individual and Equality."

The lectures will be given February 19, February 26, March 5, and March 12.

Meet the first beginnings; look to the budding mischief before it has time to ripen maturity.

Nurses, Male or Female, Needed by US Air Force

Exciting, rewarding careers await qualified young men and women as Air Force nurses, TSgt. Milton H. Dunham, local Air Force recruiting representative, said this week.

Qualified applicants are commissioned as Air Force reserve officers in a grade commensurate with their age, education and professional experience and enter service in that grade. The minimum tour of active duty is two years.

The Air Force offers almost unlimited opportunities for nurses to gain broad experience and advancement in their specialty. The Air Force offers many educational opportunities, both professional and academic.

Air Force nursing specialties include administration, surgical, psychiatric, flight nursing and anesthetist work. An 18-month anesthetist's course is available for registered nurses.

Nurses enjoy the same pay and privileges as other officers of equal grade including 30 days paid vacation each year and extra pay while performing flight nursing duties.

They also work with the most modern equipment available in a highly professional atmosphere, and have an unexcelled opportunity for free travel in the United States and overseas.

To qualify for an Air Force commission a nurse applicant must be a graduate of a three-year school of nursing acceptable to the surgeon general, have current registration in any state, territory of the U.S. or the District of Columbia, meet physical and professional qualifications, be at least 20 years of age but not over 35, have no dependents under 18 years of age (no restrictions on dependents for male nurses), be a citizen of the U.S. and possess high moral qualifications.

Additional information on the Air Force medical service may be obtained from Sergeant Dunham at 2183 Concord Boulevard, Concord.

Cancer Folder Describes Aid

A new folder entitled "Cancer! Where Can You Turn?" tells in specific terms the kind of help to look for from the American Cancer Society and is available upon request now at the society's Contra Costa Branch, 2180 N. California Boulevard, Walnut Creek.

"The American Cancer Society is many things to many people and is made up of many people—volunteer physicians, businessmen, union leaders, nurses, scientists and housewives, dedicated to one goal: saving lives from cancer," Dr. Jonas Schreider, county president, pointed out today.

For instance, a mother wants to know how to guard herself against cancer of the cervix. A scientist needs funds to support his research on leukemia. A physician must keep up with the fast-developing facts in cancer control.

A businessman wants to protect his employees. A patient needs dressings and weekly transportation to a treatment center.

"All these figures in the fabric of our county's society turn to the cancer society," Dr. Schreider said.

"Whatever your need, call your county society for more information on what it can do for you, and incidentally, what you can do for it."

Gordon's Garden Workshop Will Be at Nursery

"Roses, past, present and future" will be the topic for Gordon Baker Lloyd when he conducts his monthly workshop tomorrow at 8 p.m., at the Orchard Nursery in Lafayette.

The noted garden authority will demonstrate how to prune roses, speak about pest control in regard to roses, their watering, etc.

A new section, "Beginners' Corner" will be started at this meeting. This will be for newcomers to the area who have basic gardening problems.

These monthly meetings are open to the public and refreshments are served.

Pre-finish Wall

For best results it is wise to prefinish wall panels before installing them. A good seal coat plus a coat or two of clear plastic lacquer or varnish is best applied when the boards are flat, and hand sanding is much easier.

There are more than 50,000 Indians in New Mexico, reports the National Automobile Club.

NDEA Loans Available for Local Students

National Defense Education Act student loans are available on all general campuses of the University of California.

Counselors and school administrators are urged to call these loans and the application deadlines to the attention of current or prospective high school and junior college graduates with superior academic records, particularly those who, for economic reasons, have expressed doubt of their ability to continue their educations.

Farm Advisor John Carnill says applicants from high school are eligible if they are accepted for admission as regular students; undergraduates currently enrolled at the university and transfer students should have a cumulative grade point average of at least 2.5.

Special consideration is given students with a superior academic record majoring in science, mathematics, engineering, or a modern foreign language.

The maximum loan to one individual is $1000 in any one academic year, and no more than $5000 total. Loans must be repaid with three per cent interest over a period of ten years, beginning one year after the recipient ceases to be a full-time student.

Up to 50 per cent of the loan (and the interest thereon) may be canceled at the rate of 10 per cent for each year of full-time teaching in public schools through the 12th grade.

The deadline for filing applications for the academic year 1963-64 is May 1, 1963. Applicants should write to the Supervisor of Special Services, 309 Sproul Hall, University of California, Berkeley 4.

For information you may call Farm Advisor John T. Carnill of the Agricultural Extension Service office in Pittsburg.

Alien Address Reports Must Be Filed Now

Postmaster L. G. Bornholtz of Walnut Creek today advised that the final date for aliens to report their current address is January 31.

The Immigration and Nationality Act of 1952 requires each alien who is in the United States on January 1, 1963, to report his current address to the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization within the period January 1 through January 31, 1963.

Those required to report are: (a) Aliens residing permanently in the United States; (b) Aliens admitted for temporary periods, as visitors, transients, students, etc.; and (c) Aliens who, through violation of immigration laws, are in the United States illegally.

The address reporting card (Form I-53) is available at the post office and may be obtained at any of the windows.

Penalty for failure to comply with this act, if convicted, can result in fine, imprisonment, or both. Irrespective of whether an alien is convicted or punished, any alien who willfully or inexcusably fails to report his address is liable to be taken into custody and deported, the postmaster advised.

Benefits are For 'Partially Retired' Also

Many people age 65 or over who are still working don't realize that under the law they are "partially retired" and can receive some social security payments.

It is possible to receive social security retirement benefits even if earnings go over $1200 a year, according to Morgan J. Shea, social security district manager in Berkeley.

Shea gave an example of a 65-year-old man and his wife eligible for a $180 monthly social security payment. If the man earns $2500 in a year, he and his wife could receive $1110 in social security payments.

More than a million people over 65 have not yet applied for social security benefits. Many could receive benefits even though they are working. Some of these people are probably living right here in the mid-county area.

Shea suggested that employed persons 65 or over visit or write the Berkeley social security office at 1990 Addison Street to find out whether or not they can receive some social security payments.

Dr. Porter Barrington Will Lead Evangelists

The first inter-denominational evangelistic crusade in mid-county history begins Sunday night at the National Guard Armory in Walnut Creek.

Featured speaker of the crusade is Dr. Porter Barrington, former pastor of the Van Nuys First Baptist Church and evangelistic minister for over 30 years.

The crusade, which will run through January 27, will hold meetings at 7 p.m. Sundays, 7:30 p.m. weekdays and Saturdays.

Appearing at each meeting will be crusade soloist John Webb, a basso profundo seen and heard on television, radio, and the concert and opera stages.

Over 35 churches of various denominations will participate in the crusade, under the leadership of the Rev. Melvin Stone.

Stone heads a "crusade committee" whose members include the Rev. Vernon Kraft, the Rev. Phillip Latero, the Rev. Gray Lambert, the Rev. William Mays, and the Rev. Glen Lambert and Rev. Wayne Zellmer.

Managing finances for the crusade are Cecil Miller and Bill Allison.

The National Guard Armory is located across the creek from the recreation center in Walnut Creek's City Park.

FINGERPRINT

A dozen boards in a panel wall cut from the same log may look alike, but they are as different as people. Each board, for instance, cut from a Douglas fir log has its own fingerprints, a wonderful variety of grain and texture.

The beginning is the most important part of the work.

Looking for A Career?

How to pursue vitally important careers in medical technology is explained in a new brochure now available free from the American Cancer Society's Contra Costa Branch, 2180 N. California Boulevard, in Walnut Creek.

Mrs. John S. Selley, county education chairman for the society, said the new brochure will be valuable to teachers, students, career counselors and to persons already engaged in this field who are interested in furthering their careers.

Entitled "The Profession of Medical Technology," the booklet answers typical questions asked by students exploring career opportunities, such as "What is a medical technologist?" and "Where do they work and what do they do?"

Mrs. Selley said the illustrated brochure also provides information regarding college requirements, technical training, certification and opportunities for specialization in such fields as cytotechnology, research and bacteriology.

"Because laboratories have greatly increased in number during thes last few years, there are not nearly enough technologists to staff them," the cancer society's education chairman pointed out. "This is a comparatively new profession that has come of age since World War II, and those who prepare themselves have unlimited opportunities for jobs."

Commends City Budget Feature

The City of Walnut Creek won nationwide attention for an administrative feature of its budget presentation, it was learned last week.

The October, 1962, issue of "Public Management," a professional journal, commented favorably on City Manager L. A. Kimball's textual explanations of departmental budget requests. A paragraph of the article, "A Review of City Budgets," ran as follows:

"Statements of justification of departmental requests are a frequently occurring items (in city budgets for 1962-63) and provide interesting and informative data to the citizen-reader.

"Textual explanations of the city manager's recommendation for each department is, for example, featured in the budget for Walnut Creek, California."

Group Piano Teaching for Youngsters

Mrs. John Booth, a graduate of London's Royal Academy of Music, is seeking young students to study piano in a group.

Mrs. Booth will start lessons as soon as six youngsters have singed up for the class. The class will have 10 students as a maximum, she said.

More information about the class can be obtained by contacting Mrs. Booth.

Clear Flores for Raiders

Tom Flores of Orinda, who sat out the Oakland Raiders disastrous 1962 football season because of a lung condition, has been cleared by his physician to return to the squad next season.

Flores, quarterback for the team during the 1960 and 1961 seasons, was stricken with bronchiextasis, a lung infection.

During the last campaign — with Flores out of action—the Raiders won only one game while suffering thirteen losses.

Two weeks ago, Flores' physician medically cleared him to return to football and the star quarterback was immediately given a new contract by the Raiders.

Flores, whose throwing motion has been called the smoothest in professional football, said that he will begin an immediate program of exercising to recondition himself for his return to football.

During his rookie year in 1960, the 24-year-old Flores led the American Football League in percentage of completions and in 1961 he finished second in the league's passing statistics.

Foster Home Information Meet Planned

A meeting for parents interested in foster home program will be held Wednesday, 7 p.m., in the conference room of the Concord Library, 2900 Salvio, Concord.

The 60 families who have contacted the probation department concerning this program have been invited.

John A. Davis, county probation officer, will be present. An informal panel with Mrs. Eleanor Wilson, Concord, senior deputy probation officer in charge of recruitment, a representative from the county social service department and foster parents who have been active in this program, will speak.

Questions such as: Who are the children in need of foster parents today? Are foster parents reimbursed for care? How long do these children stay in foster homes? will be answered at the meeting.

A question asked by a little girl of a social worker recently was "Are you the lady who is going to find a home for us?" Mrs. Eleanor Wilson, appointed six weeks ago as recruitment officer for the probation department, is endeavoring to do just this for the many children of all ages needing substitute homes.

"However, this question could be addressed to all the people in Contra Costa County because this child and all the others—waiting for foster homes are our children," says Mrs. Robert S. Love, Lafayette, a foster mother and a member of the Foster Home Information Committee.

Further information on the foster home program may be obtained by contacting Mrs. Eleanor Wilson, county probation office, Martinez.

Planners Assn. '63 President

Anthony A. Dehaesus, county planning department, has been elected president of the City-County Planners Association of Contra Costa County.

The association, Dehaesus explained, is an organization of professional planning personnel, and others engaged in responsible planning activity, of agencies and jurisdictions within the county.

Renewal Fees Due for Autos, Motorcycles

Renewal statements for 1963 are in the mail to California's seven million registered automobile owners, announced Tom Bright, director of motor vehicles.

Statements show the amount of fees due for 1963 registration and, when stamped paid, will become the registration certificate for the coming year.

Renewal fees for automobiles and motorcycles were due on Wednesday, and can be paid without penalty up to and including Monday, February 4. Renewal on commercial vehicles, trucks and trailers started December 3.

Capwell's Plans Knitting Class

Mrs. Helen Lynch, Capwell's Walnut Creek knitting instructor, will conduct a series of classes on basic steps in knitting.

Classes will be held on consecutive Wednesday mornings, beginning January 23 and continuing through February 27, from 10:00 to 11:30 a.m.

There is no charge for the series which will be held in the training rooms on the second floor.

Classes will be limited to 50 people due to space limitations. Registrations will be taken in the Art Needlework Department or by telephone.

RATING THE MOVIES

Ed Note: The reviews in this column provide moviegoers with a guide to the selection of entertainment films in current release. They present the opinion of the groups which make up "The Film Estimate Board of National Organizations."

Representatives from 10 well-known organizations — including American Jewish Committee, National Congress of Parents and Teachers and the Protestant Motion Picture Council—are included on the board.

Classifications are: A—Adults; MY—Mature Young People; Y—Young People; F—Family; C—Children (unaccompanied by adults).

An asterisk indicates an outstanding film of its type.

Ten Complete Freedom Course

Three members of the Contra Costa Board of Realtors, six members of the Walnut Creek Chamber of Commerce, and one other have completed the "Freedom vs. Communism—The Economics of Survival" course, sponsored by the board and chamber.

Graduates are: John H. Kepler, Keith Kepler, Fred Vann, Frank Margrave, Phil Gustafson, L. Bradford, Lee Scarlett, Eugene Proulx, Tom Garrison and Bob Carlquist.

The eight-week course, the first of its kind in this area, is designed to acquaint public citizens with the contrasts and conflicts between a free democratic society and an arbitrarily controlled socialistic regime.

Non-partisan in nature, the course gave participants an opportunity to make an informed and objective appraisal of the communist challenge, according to Bob Carlquist, of Bailey & Ingalls, Walnut Creek. Carlquist served as moderator and discussion leader. Other classes are planned for the New Year, he said.

Spray and Prune In Your Garden Now Till March

During winter months—from mid December until March — spraying and pruning are two of the gardener's more important activities, especially with dormant trees and shrubs. This is most important for deciduous fruit trees such as peaches, apples, pears and apricots. But it applies generally to ornamental gardening also, especially in regards to spraying.

The idea behind winter spraying is that there are many insects and fungus spores which are overwintering—in the egg stage as well as in the adult stage. Four of the primary targets in this respect are scale, spider mites, aphids and mealy bugs. The fungus which causes leaf curl on peaches is another winter target, as are the overwintering fungus spores of mildew and rust which infected our roses last year.

BY HITTING these bothersome pests when trees and shrubs are dormant—i.e. leafless — the gardener can make great strides toward controlling them if not actually knocking them altogether. For being leafless, the plant material is not harmed by stronger-then-normal concentrations of spray, and the stronger the spray, the more effective it is against insects and fungus.

Evergreen material will benefit by spraying, too. But more dilute solutions will be needed or the plants themselves may be harmed. Even at dilute strength, however, headway is made in the battle of the bugs and chances for infestation next spring or summer are greatly decreased.

You can check with a member of the California Association of Nurserymen about the most effective sprays for dormant use. The most widely used for insect control are the oil sprays, which form a coating over insects and their eggs, suffocating them.

This is usually mixed with a fungicide of the lime-sulphur type to control fungus at the same time. Don't guess at the mixtures you use, nor at the type of plant you use this combination on. Ask your C.A.N. nurseryman and also read the label directions before spraying to refresh your memory. Needless to say, choose a windless day to spray and avoid contact with the spray itself.

AS FOR PRUNING, we prune in winter to control the growth and fruit production of orchard trees or to control growth and bloom on certain ornamental shrubs, such as roses and fuchsias, which bear their blooms on the new growth which will be made next spring and summer. On spring-blooming shrubs such as lilac, weigela and various others, pruning must wait until after bloom. These bloom on last year's wood and pruning now will only rob you of color when spring arrives.

There is no more important action affecting the health and cropping ability of fruit trees and grapes than pruning. The gardener is strongly urged not to set about this job in a haphazard manner, but first to read about what he is doing. In this respect, C.A.N. members can show you pamphlets and books on the subject of pruning, which will save you both time and the possibility of error.

IN THE ROSE GARDEN, instructions are somewhat easier to give in limited space. Remember that the idea is to renew the bush and to encourage new bloom-carrying growth. You can cut back one-third to one-half of a rose, keeping an eye to the shaping of the bush as you do it.

Try to encourage at least one, well-placed new cane which came up from the base last year and to cut out one old one entirely. This is sometimes not possible.

Rosarian Will Have Busy Month

As the new year gets underway, so too, does the rosarian's calendar of activities. For January is not only the month of pruning old roses, but the busiest month for planting new ones.

Before rushing out and buying the first roses you see advertised, however, read the following advice from the California Association of Nurserymen about selecting and planting bareroot rose bushes. It is easy to do the wrong thing in this respect, but just as easy to be right, so why take a chance?

THE MOST important step comes in the selection of healthy bareroot stock. It's not really hard to tell the good from the bad, and any CAN member will be happy to explain the differences in person to you. Basically you want to determine if the prospective purchase seems well informed with at least three strong and plump canes. Beware the shriveled looking rose bush or that with weak looking canes. It is not enough to have one good cane if the others are less than that.

Roses are graded No. 1, No. 1½, and No. 2, with No. 1 being the best. No. 2 grade is discarded by most reputable rose growers. Both No. 1 and 1½ grades should give very good results. The thing to watch out for is the "bargain" rose . . . especially if it is sold without a variety name and just referred to as "pink," "yellow," etc.

ANOTHER THING to remember about rose buying is that the new All-America Rose winners Tropicana and Royal Highness this year are hard to get. These are the roses everybody wants and supply usually doesn't meet the demand, so buy yours early.

There are dozens of yesterday's favorites, however. Novice rosarians will certainly want to look at some of these.

New Roses to Brighten 1963

Growing roses is one of the most rewarding phases of garden life.

Not only do you have countless old varieties to gladden your heart through the years, but each new season brings with it still more new roses to keep your interest up.

Now on the eve of another bareroot season — the busiest planting season for rosarians—comes another list of new roses. And if past experience proves anything at all, you had best visit a California Association of Nurserymen member at your earliest convenience and order what you will.

It's a good bet that the best of our new rose varieties will have been sold out long before the bareroot reason runs out. Shop early and avoid the rush.

TWO EXCEPTIONALLY fine roses, both hybrid teas, were chosen as the All America Award winners for 1963. And judging by advance orders for them, there definitely won't be enough to go around.

Tropicana, brightest of the AARS winners, is a blazing, orange-red rose of classic beauty. A tall, vigorous shrub, it showed good disease resistance in every climate where it was tested. The bloom is fragrant, as a classic rose should be, and long stemmed for cutting. Best of all, the blooms maintain their fluorescent orange-red coloring and don't fade, as so many blooming things do under the summer sun.

Tropicana has been highly honored. In addition to winning All America honors, it was given gold medals at Portland and Geneva as well as the gold medal of the National Rose Society of England. Few roses in history have done better than this in international competition.

The second AARS selection for 1963 is Royal Highness, which is another classic rose of pink coloring—a glistening pink. Royal Highness has perfectly formed buds, which open slowly to their full beauty.

THE BLOOMS are heavily fragrant, which makes them that much nicer, and are held upright on strong stems. The shrub itself is smaller than Tropicana, well proportioned, and with dark, glossy foliage.

There are reasons for giving first attention to the All America Rose Selections, for they were chosen for honors only after extensive trials in test gardens all over the United States. They have proved themselves time and time again to be the best of the breed.

There are others, however, that barely miss out and are often deserving of top honors in some, if not all of the different areas where they are tested. One especially good one for 1963, which proved an excellent rose in California, is Chicago Peace, a sport of the famous Peace rose, which has won so many honors for itself.

Chicago Peace is a glistening pink hybrid tea with yellow, or occasionally copper, coloring at the base of the petals. It is very free flowering, producing a succession of bloom on strong, upright shrubs.

THERE WILL be a rush to order Chicago Peace as well as the AARS winners, which is why we recommend shopping early. If you should miss out on one or all of them, however, CAN nurserymen can show you many others that are new and exciting.

Then, too, you can always take a new look at some old AARS winners—especially those of last year. As you may recall, there were four AARS selections last year—two hybrid teas, a floribunda and a grandiflora. They were in short supply then, but you'll find an increased number of them for this bareroot season.

The hybrid teas were Christian Dior, an elegant crimson rose, and Kings Ransom, a rich chrome yellow. The grandiflora was John Armstrong, a rich, deep red which blooms profusely in the manner of grandifloras; and the floribunda was Golden Slippers, an orange-gold beauty. As most rosarians know, these winners of last year and yesteryear are still winners when it comes to beauty and performance.

Which is why you can buy any rose with the AARS tag on it and not go wrong.

Easy Way to Clean Blinds

Is there an easy way to clean Venetian blinds?

This is a case where you can use preventive care . . . by keeping the slats slightly tilted they will collect less dust. Dust often, using a vacuum cleaner attachment. If you're dusting by hand, use a cloth in each hand or wear soft, cotton gloves.

To wash the slats use a solution of warm water and a mild, synthetic detergent or commercial paint cleaner. Rinse and wipe dry. Tilt the slats forward so your wrists will be in a comfortable position while working.

After you've thoroughly cleaned the blinds, a creamy type of wax may be applied. Mitts on both hands will speed the job and you can apply wax to both sides of the slats at the same time. Mitts with a thumb and forefinger can be made easily from soft cloth.

Occasionally, it may be advisable to have your Venetian blinds cleaned by a commercial serviceman.

Gussy Up Your Baked Potatoes

Even a baked potato can take on a holiday air—if you spend the necessary moments to dress it up. Beef stock base makes the taste difference here — together with instant toasted onions (no tears) and grated cheese.

SAVORY STUFFED BAKED POTATOES
- 6 medium-sized baking potatoes
- ⅓ cup of light cream
- 4 tablespoons of butter
- 2 tablespoons of instant toasted onions
- 4 teaspoons of beef stock base
- 1 cup of grated sharp cheddar cheese

Scrub potatoes, oil skins and bake in 400° F. oven until done. Cut a thin slice off the top and scoop out potato into bowl. Heat cream, add butter. Mash potatoes, beat in hot cream and butter then stir in toasted onions and beef stock base. Fill potato shells with potato mixture. Top with grated cheese. Return to oven until hot and cheese is melted.

LOW UPKEEP

To keep your upkeep costs down on wood siding, use a rough-sawn texture western red cedar and stain it. You should not have to apply the second coat before eight to 10 years.

Sun Home and Garden

Shoot Lots of Color Into Your Late Winter Garden

Unless you plan it differently, your late winter garden is apt to be on the drab side.

A camellia or two will be showing color and here or there, an azalea. But how about the bright splashes of color which only bedding plants can give? You won't get these unless you plant them in time, which means immediately, if not sooner.

Certain bedding plants set out now will be dishing up bouquets for cutting well in advance of the normal flush of spring bloom. So check in with a local member of the California Association of Nurserymen and see which of the following are best adapted for your area.

ICELAND POPPIES are among the surest (and brightest) of bedders for winter display. Their long stems support crinkled cups of orange, white, yellow, pink, red or cream colors — a dazzling array in any season and all the brighter because of the rain and cool weather which they buck up against.

Iceland poppies are often already in bloom when you find them in CAN nurseries, so the wait for their color is no longer than the drive back home. Plant them in a sunny spot in a loose, well-drained soil. You'll be blooms ahead if you add a bit of fertilizer. Any all-purpose food will do. Just put a bit under each plant before you set it out, but never in direct contact with the roots.

AS EVER, when weather is cool, the viola family figures into the picture. You could have planted these two or three months ago and be enjoying their bloom in a month or less. As with the Iceland poppy, violas often show color when you buy them in nurseries, so you really have a minimum wait.

Violas are available in four primary colors—yellow, blue, apricot and white. Mix them if you will, but not indiscriminately. The effect is best when you plant plots of one color and mix the plots up rather than mixing individual plants.

They make excellent covers for bulb beds and should be planted over daffodils and tulips, first to contrast with their bloom, then to hide the bulb foliage when it goes through the long process of ripening off. Violas are long blooming and will still be showing color next summer if you keep the flowers cut back in the meantime.

CALENDULAS ARE excellent bets for late winter color and the gardener who thinks of them as warm weather annuals only will be surprised to find them doing better in the cool of winter and early spring. Mildew, an occasional problem with summer-grown calendulas, is non-existent in the cooler months. The blooms are larger, and by contrast with the weather they are brighter than they ever seem in summer.

You buy calendulas in mixed colors only — colors which are vastly improved over the old standard yellow and orange of the early pot marigolds. The new Beauty Mix gives you striking orange tones and creamy yellows which will be a feature in and out of your house a month or six weeks from now.

THE RELATIVELY little-grown English daisy is another color bearer for late winter gardens, its color being snowy white, pink or rose. There is scarcely a better plant for edging walks or filling small beds. The flowers are not unlike pompon chrysanthemums, except their height is seldom over six inches and often less.

English daisies are also good for planting over bulb beds or for bordering a bulb bed with color. They may also be planted with other annuals, doing especially well with violas, pansies and forget-me-nots. Long blooming, they will start in cool weather and continue showing color into summer. They can stand full sun in winter, but if you want them through summer better give them a bit of shade.

STILL ANOTHER annual which can be counted on for winter bloom is the Primula Malacoides, or Fairy primrose. These are excellent for edgings and find their main use in that way.
